ABOUT US

LUMEN is youth non-governmental organization established in spring of 2000 with the aim to improve the quality of life of young people in Ludbreg town and northwest region of Croatia and to bring their social inclusion and activism to a higher level.

Our main objectives to develop cultural, democratic, social and ecological conscience among youth, to encourage cooperation of young people with different interests and activities and to increase influence of young people on work of local community. We continued with our goals from past years as we managed to help young people from Ludbreg and Croatia to see different parts of Europe and world, to volunteer and learn through different programs.

By this we want to empower youth, giving them tools and skills for future life and raise their sense of European identity. Our main principles are connected with environmental sustainability, responsibility, inclusion, diversity and active participation.

AIM OF THIS YOUTH EXCHANGE

To bring sustainability to life for young people through play, using games to uncover its values, dilemmas, and consequences, AI to co-create and share ideas responsibly, and art to give everyone a way to express what they think and feel, regardless of background, language, or ability.

OBJECTIVES

- Explore sustainability through play. Use game-based experiences to help participants discover sustainability, its values, dilemmas, everyday choices, and systemic effects, turning abstract concepts into concrete, lived situations that can be discussed, questioned, and personally connected to.
- Learn to design games that teach. Guide participants through the process of creating their own games on sustainability topics of their choice, understanding how rules, mechanics, and narrative can carry a message, provoke reflection, and make learning engaging for others.
- Use AI as a responsible co-creation tool. Introduce AI to support the game design process, from developing ideas and writing rules to generating visuals and adapting content for different audiences, while building critical awareness around privacy, consent, and the limits of AI-generated content.

WHO IS THIS PROJECT FOR?

This project is for young people aged 18 to 30 who:

- Care about sustainability but want to understand it in a more practical, hands-on way.
- Are curious about games, creativity, or storytelling.
- Want to learn how to design learning experiences, not just take part in them.
- Are interested in using AI in a thoughtful and responsible way.
- Come from different cultural, social, or educational backgrounds.
